

DENVER
THE MILE HIGH CITY

DENVER OFFICE OF CULTURAL AFFAIRS

Wellington E. Webb Municipal Building
201 W. Colfax Ave., Dept. 1007 | Denver, CO 80202

Are you an...

artist, gallery owner, musician, filmmaker, performing artist, theatre company, neighborhood representative or creative individual?

Concerned about the future of affordable and available creative space in Denver?

If so, now is your chance to voice how best to make Denver the creative center of the West!

Please join us for the Creative Spaces Community Meeting which will kick-off the Mayor's Task Force on Creative Spaces. The meeting will inform the Task Force about the space needs and issues of the creative community.

Creative Spaces Community Meeting
Tuesday, January 24, 2006
Walnut Foundry
3002 Walnut Street, Denver
4pm-6pm

Free parking. Refreshments provided. Conversation continues at the Walnut Room, 3131 Walnut Street, with specials for meeting participants.

Discussion facilitated by Johnny Klein, civic leader and creative entrepreneur.

Hosted by:
Denver Office of Cultural Affairs
Department of Community Planning and Development

The Mayor's Task Force on Creative Spaces is charged with the duty to explore, examine and conceive ways that the City can expand, foster and develop creative spaces in Denver. By listening to the creative community and studying examples from other cities, the Task Force will develop a series of recommendations for long- and short-term solutions that can work in Denver.