Who I give to and why

I give to the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention. I lost my son to suicide in January 2017. I support the organization so that we can reach more people about warning signs and available resources. If my son's story could save one life, I will continue to share it.

Why I give through the DECC

Making my gift through the DECC is an easy and convenient way to make donations and raise awareness of the needs in our community.

Andrea's charity of choice, the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, is dedicated to saving lives and bringing hope to those affected by suicide.
