Who I give to and why

One of my favorite charities to give to is St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. As a father of two, I really appreciate the work they do for kids and families. They offer top-notch medical care for the children, while never sending a bill to the parents.

Why I give through the DECC

Giving a bit of each paycheck is not noticeable to me, but I know it makes a difference to the nonprofit. Plus, giving actually feels good, and my kids learn a lesson about the importance of donating.

Ryan's charity of choice, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, works to lead the way the world understands, treats and defeats childhood cancer and other life-threatening diseases.
