

Tina Derricott Human Services Employee Ambassador

Who I give to

I give to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society because I am a woman living with MS. I live each day with this frightening diagnosis. It is scary, but the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has helped me and my family with housing when we faced homelessness because the medication costs are astronomical. They have also helped with medication, treatment options and counseling. They are amazing! I am grateful this charity has been there for me.

Why I give through the DECC

The Denver Employees Charitable Campaign makes giving easy. I give what I can and I can be a small part of an organization that helps many. I would love to participate in Walk MS, but can't. I participate in this way.

Charity of choice

National Multiple Sclerosis Society

People affected by MS can live their best lives as we stop MS in its tracks, restore what has been lost and end MS forever.
