

TEAM DECC presents: Joey Pace, Mayor's Office of Children's Affairs
Featured Nonprofit: Youth on Record

Youth On Record is an amazing art based programs that utilize local artist to work with youth in schools and treatment centers in Denver. These artists utilize art with youth to allow them to find their voice, express themselves, and to address the issues that are most important to them. Youth On Record now has a state of the art recording studio onsite where youth and artist will record together. They allow the youth to see that art can be one of the tools for change in the world today. I'm on the board of Youth On Record, as well as have partnered with Youth On Record at numerous events. Music changed my life and it's important that I support an organization that is using local artist to change the lives of others.

---

This week's featured agency: Youth on Record

EMPOWERMENT THROUGH CREATIVE EDUCATION

Youth on Record is committed to ensuring that the youth we serve graduate from high school and are ready to enter the workforce, transition to college or enter advanced technical training. Our programs empower teens in some of Denver's most vulnerable communities to make life choices that positively impact their future by teaching them to develop the tools, inspiration and wherewithal to succeed in today's world and to become leaders of tomorrow. Our intensive, for-credit high school classes are led by a powerful group of culturally relevant Colorado musicians, all of whom have a passion for working with at-risk and underserved youth in the Denver Metro area.

Click here to learn more about Youth on Record.