Classification Notice No. 1364

To: Agency Heads and Employees

From: Nita Henry, Executive Director

Date: March 15, 2012

Subject: Proposed Change to the Classification and Pay Plan

The proposed change amends the Classification and Pay Plan by adding Legislative & Communications Liaison (810-A).

At the request of the Mayor’s Office, Career Service Authority (CSA) is developing a new classification, Legislative & Communications Liaison. This classification has three areas of focus: 1) to function as a liaison with the city’s marketing/public relations professionals to effectively communicate department/agency initiatives and participate in the development of citywide policies, procedures, and standards for marketing, communications, and public relations; 2) to provide marketing, communications, and public relations support to departments/agencies without dedicated personnel; and 3) to serve as an advisor to the Mayor’s Office by providing feedback and recommendations on complex policy issues and/or proposed legislation.

GENERAL STATEMENT OF CLASS DUTIES

Performs advanced, specialized professional level work functioning as a liaison with the city’s marketing/public relations professionals to effectively communicate department/agency initiatives; participating in the development of citywide policies, procedures, and standards for marketing, communications, and public relations; providing marketing, communications, and public relations support to departments/agencies without dedicated personnel; and serving as an advisor to the Mayor’s Office by providing feedback and recommendations on complex policy issues and/or proposed legislation.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS

The Legislative & Communications Liaison is distinguished from the Marketing/Public Relations Specialist which performs professional specialist level communications, marketing, and/or public relations work involved in planning, developing, designing, coordinating, and monitoring of a variety of promotional and informational materials directed at public involvement and outreach strategies and activities.

Next, the Legislative & Communications Liaison is distinguished from the City Council Legislative Analyst, which performs advanced, specialized professional level work coordinating and managing the City’s legislative process and City Council committee meetings; performing research and analysis into complex policy issues, making recommendations and providing advice to City Council members on existing and proposed legislation; and functioning as a technical expert on the City's legislative process by advising City Council members, city employees, and the public on legislative processes and procedures.

Finally, the Legislative & Communications Liaison is distinguished from the Strategic Advisor, which performs advanced, specialized professional level work by serving as a key advisor to an Appointing Authority/Executive, providing advice and counsel on a wide range of highly complex strategic, policy, organizational, and management issues, and making recommendations that have significant and long-term impact on city/departmental policies and priorities.

Guidelines, Difficulty and Decision Making Level:

Guidelines are generally in the form of stated objectives only with issues and factors largely undefined requiring the employee to exercise creativity and ingenuity in devising criteria, techniques, strategy, and methodologies for approaching assigned functions or projects.

Duties performed involve concepts, theories, and concrete factors to be evaluated and weighed requiring a high degree of analytical ability, independent judgment, and decision-making.

Work assignment is generally unstructured and employee is responsible for organizing complex, varied, and simultaneous coordination of several functions, programs, or projects in various stages of completion.
Level of Supervision Received and Quality Review:

Under administrative supervision, the employee has personal accountability for carrying out an assigned function, program, or project within the scope of established guidelines and objectives and is expected to resolve problems that arise in the normal course of the work. Completed work is generally reviewed for soundness of judgment, conclusion, adequacy, and conformance to policy.

Interpersonal Communications and Purpose:

Contacts are of a non-prescribed nature involving the negotiation and resolution of problems and where exceptional degrees of discretion, judgment, and knowledge are required. Communication where the exchange of information, support, influence, and cooperation may have a very significant impact on the division, programs, and/or policies of the organization.

Level of Supervision Exercised:

By position, performs lead work.
