General Statement of Duties
Performs full performance work enforcing local and regional laws concerning the care and treatment of animals, investigates complaints of non-compliance with animal ordinances and laws, acts as a court liaison on violations pertaining to the issuance of legal summonses, and provides education to the public regarding animal care, safety, and welfare.

Distinguishing Characteristics
This class performs full performance animal control and enforcement work. This work may be very emotional charged for animal control investigators as well as animal owners and others. Animal control investigators respond to calls from citizens about stray animals, suspected animal cruelty, or deceased animals, and interviews those who have witnessed animal cruelty or attack. Requires employees to occasionally assist in the raising or lowering of objects up to 150 pounds.

There are two classes in the animal control series. The Animal Control Investigator II is a full performance class and the Animal Control Investigator I performs entry level enforcement work while receiving training in the practices, procedures, and laws of animal care, control, and enforcement methods and techniques, works under close supervision, and as an employee gains experience, assignments expand in complexity and scope.

The Animal Control Investigator II class is distinguished from the Animal Control Investigation Supervisor class that performs supervisory duties over animal control employees who enforce local and regional laws concerning the care and treatment of animals, investigate complaints of non-compliance with animal ordinances and laws, perform court liaison duties pertaining to the issuance of legal summonses, and provide education to the public regarding animal care, safety, and welfare.
