

Office of Human Resources

Director - EA2759

THIS IS A PUBLIC DOCUMENT

General Statement of Duties

Performs “core” mid-level operational management by directing functional and/or operational areas for a division to include implementing annual and multi-year work plans and implementation strategies; ensuring resources are available to achieve work plans; resolving complex business issues; and establishing management practices and processes that ensure the accomplishment of performance standards. Typically has Managers reporting to them.

Distinguishing Characteristics

There are four general management classes (Manager, Director, Executive, and Deputy Manager) and specific individual management classes. The Director is a “core” mid-level management class. A Director manages a division or small agency and is generally responsible for implementing organizational goals within the division, and for supervising managers, supervisors, and individual contributors. A Director is operationally, functionally, and/or strategically focused with primary emphasis on operations.

The Director is distinguished from the Executive who directs multiple divisions and is generally responsible for supervising directors, managers, supervisors, and individual contributors. The Executive class may be used as deputy managers of agencies for small to medium sized charter departments.

The Director is also distinguished from the Manager, a first level management class. A Manager oversees work groups/areas within a division or agency and is generally responsible for supervising first or second line supervisors and/or individual contributors. A Manager position is operationally and functionally focused.

Level of Supervision Exercised
