

Office of Human Resources
Emergency Service Worker – CJ3272
THIS IS A PUBLIC DOCUMENT

General Statement of Duties

Performs a variety of jobs for the City and County of Denver during an emergency or disaster declared by the Mayor. Employees may be asked to change their normal scope of duties or routines to fulfill unexpected emergency or disaster needs.

Distinguishing Characteristics

The Emergency Service Worker performs a variety of assignments/tasks for the City and County of Denver during an emergency or disaster.

City and County leaders directing emergency response will provide each worker with their assigned work duties/tasks.

Assignments will be based on the needs of City and County departments and agencies during the citywide emergency.

For current City and County of Denver employees:

- Employees will more than likely need to work outside of the general scope of their typical duties/ responsibilities and training may be limited.
- Employees who possess special skills, experiences, or certifications that are not reflected in Workday's Career Profile, contact the Office of Human Resources Service Center, Agency Human Resources Manager/Business Partner, or immediate supervisor. Examples of these skills are:
 - Languages
 - Licenses and certifications
 - First Aid and CPR training
 - Commercial driver's licenses.

Many public employees are already trained to respond. During a disaster, some departments will respond in their traditional roles (such as police, sheriff, and fire). Other departments may be required to perform their day-to-day tasks as well as other duties to support the activities of the City's Emergency Operations Center (EOC) or other City and County of Denver coordinated responses and may be performed at various sites throughout the City and County.

During a time of emergency, non-essential employees may perform regular duties or may have alterations to their duties. Employees may also be asked to take on tasks outside of your normal responsibilities to work in support of emergency operations, assist with support functions at a disaster site, coordinate information about the disaster or available public services, and other activities needed in order to ensure an effective City and County of Denver respond to the hazard.
