General Statement of Duties
Performs full performance professional work coordinating operational and/or administrative programs or functions, acting as a liaison to facilitate communication between sections/divisions, business/community groups, and/or the public, and serving as a technical advisor. Performs full performance professional work coordinating operational and/or administrative programs or functions, acting as a liaison to facilitate communication between sections/divisions, business/community groups, and/or the public, and serving as a technical advisor.

Distinguishing Characteristics
This class performs full performance professional work coordinating operational and/or administrative programs or functions, acting as a liaison, and serving as a technical advisor. This class is distinguished from a Staff Assistant that performs paraprofessional level work assisting professional staff in the execution and application of a specific administrative function(s) to the operations of an organization. The Operations Coordinator is also distinguished from the Administrator I class that performs a variety of specific administrative activities/projects of limited scope in a specialized, functional area which requires a thorough foundation in the principles and practices of the functional area in order to maintain and improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the function and provide supportive, interpretive, and advisory information to higher level administrators, managers, and/or other stakeholders.

The Operations Coordinator is distinguished from the Program Administrator in that a Program Administrator performs full performance professional level work implementing, administering, and developing program activities and functions and provides technical expertise to program staff, other agencies, the community, and program participants. A Program Administrator administers a program that is defined as a specialized area with specific components that include its own policies, procedures, goals, objectives, budget, and tasks that distinguish it from the main body of a department/agency. A program may complement the core goals and objectives of an agency/department but it is separate from the functional areas that support the core goals and objectives. An Operations Coordinator coordinates operational/administrative programs and/or functions that support the core goals and objectives of a department/agency. Additionally, an Operations Coordinator is distinguished from a Program Coordinator that performs administrative and paraprofessional work organizing the administrative aspects for a program that is separate from the functional areas that support the core goals and objectives of an agency/department.

Guidelines, Difficulty and Decision-Making Level
Guidelines are generally but not always clearly applicable, requiring the employee to exercise judgment in selecting the most pertinent guideline, interpret precedents, adapt standard practices to differing situations, and recommend alternative actions in situations without precedent.

Duties assigned are generally complex and may be of substantial intricacy. Work assignment is performed within an established framework under general instructions but requires simultaneous coordination of assigned functions or projects in various stages of completion.

Employee is responsible for determining time, place, and sequence of actions to be taken. Unusual problems or proposed deviations from guidelines, practices, or precedents may be discussed with the supervisor before being initiated.
Level of Supervision Received & Quality Review

Under general supervision, the employee receives assignments and is expected to carry them through to completion with substantial independence. Work is reviewed for adherence to instructions, accuracy, completeness, and conformance to standard practice or precedent. Recurring work clearly covered by guidelines may or may not be reviewed.

Interpersonal Communication & Purpose
