

Fledgling: /'flejliNG/ baby bird, chick

What is a fledgling?

A fledgling is an adolescent bird. In Denver, most commonly a Common Grackle.

A fledgling is old enough to walk on her own, but not old enough to fly.

What is the fledgling doing on the ground?

Learning to walk. She's exploring the environment almost on her own. Her parents are close by watching.

What should I do if I find a fledgling?

Nothing. She is fine. This is her home, and she is helping to keep plants free of insects.

If she is visibly injured, call DAP at 720-913-2080.
