Help for Homebuyers

Homebuyer Counseling – OED works with community partners to provide free assistance for residents who are becoming homebuyers. Any household, not only income-qualified households, can participate in a HUD-approved first-time homebuyer class for free with one of OED’s community partners. denvergov.org/housing.

Income Qualification Program – OED administers the application and income verification process for homebuyers who seek to purchase an affordable unit created by Denver’s Inclusionary Housing Ordinance (IHO). denvergov.org/housing.

Down Payment Assistance – OED works with a partner organization, the Colorado Housing Assistance Corporation, to provide low-interest, flexible loans to homebuyers earning up to 80% AMI. chaonline.org.

Metro Mortgage Assistance Plus – This is also a Down Payment Assistance Program where OED and the Department of Finance work with participating lenders throughout the Denver metro area to offer qualifying homebuyers a down payment assistance grant of up to 4% of the purchase price of the home. Talk to your bank or mortgage lender.

Mortgage Credit Certificate – Denver also offers Mortgage Credit Certificates for homebuyers, another bond-backed mortgage assistance program. Through this program, qualifying homebuyers can receive an annual federal income tax credit for 25% of the interest they pay on their mortgage, up to a maximum of $2,000 per year. Talk to your bank or mortgage lender.
COMMUNITY RESOURCES

These are programs and services if you need help to find an apartment to rent, help understanding your tenant rights, or are facing eviction.

3-1-1, press 6 - For Denver residents experiencing a housing crisis and/or facing eviction, the city can help with temporary rent and utility assistance (TRUA). Help for Renters

Temporary Rent and Utility Assistance (TRUA) - If you are a Denver resident in a housing crisis, can’t pay your rent, need help with utility bills, are facing eviction, or are forced to live in housing that is uninhabitable, call 3-1-1 and press 6. You can get up to 80% of your rent paid for up to 6 months, up to $1,000 for utility bills, and time to explore your housing options. Income limits apply and proof of your housing crisis or emergency (job loss, sudden rent increase, etc.) is required.

Tenant-Based Rental Assistance – Most tenant-based rental assistance vouchers in Denver are administered by the Denver Housing Authority, including Sec. 8 vouchers. Tenants who receive a tenant-based voucher can use it to rent any unit, not only an income-qualified unit. The tenant pays the rent they can afford (generally 30% of their household income) and the voucher covers the rest of the rent up to a defined market level. www.denverhousing.org.

Tenant-Landlord Counseling – OED funds services to renters who need help finding an apartment, need help understanding their rights, or who are facing eviction. A new landlord-tenant guide is available as a PDF at denvergov.org/housing, too. More at www.coloradoaffordablelegal.com.

Help for Homeowners

OED partners with the Denver Urban Renewal Authority (DURA) to provide federal funds to homeowners to repair their homes, including:

   Emergency Home Repair - provides low-interest loans to homeowners to correct emergency situations that immediately threaten the safety of residents.

   Single Family Rehabilitation - provides low-interest loans that allow homeowners, especially senior citizens, to make repairs (to bring homes up to building code).

   Rental/Homeowner Access Modification - provides grants to assist disabled homeowners in making access modifications.

   Details on all three programs at www.renewdenver.org.
