A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Denver, we have positioned ourselves at the vanguard of progress and the whole world is noticing. Through a focused strategy, we are consistently bringing new job growth, business recruitment and expansion, transit and transportation, and entrepreneurship to the city. Our natural and built environment offers a smart, vibrant lifestyle for the many who want to come here, be here and stay here. Denver’s quality of life here is second to none and the pride of this great city.

Creating tens of thousands of new jobs and thousands of new businesses since 2011, Denver has gained great economic momentum. But we will not sit idle with this achievement. Every resident deserves a good job with the opportunity to improve their economic status. Denver’s employers increasingly demand a skilled workforce, and working families face the challenge of finding safe and affordable housing. Progress on these fronts is being made, but such challenges are far from solved.

For all our successes, Denver hasn’t defeated the barriers that our most vulnerable residents still face. More affordable housing. Access to economic mobility. Neighborhood vibrancy without displacement. Denver will address the challenges ahead as we always have, with determination and collaboration. And so, our work continues undeterred.

In the ever changing new economy of the 21st century, Denver will lead the way. We will continue to build on the successes we’ve achieved together while we attend to the challenges that remain head on in advancing economic mobility. I could not be more confident in, or more proud of, Denver’s resourceful capacity to prevail at both.

Michael B. Hancock
Mayor
A MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The Denver Office of Economic Development is privileged to be the steward of significant city as well as state and federal dollars, supporting people, businesses, and housing initiatives. Even as allotments of federal funds are dropping, the total resources we manage represent a major investment in the local economy—more than $40 million last year alone.

We are constantly reviewing opportunities to stretch and leverage investments, using partnerships and aligned activity across government, private and nonprofit sectors. Public investment may fill the gap for social and economic needs when private dollars aren’t likely to be in play, but there is still a critical role for us in minimizing risk and calculating benefit.

As our agency’s strategic plan, JumpStart is a compass that guides our investment decisions—a detailed signal of our priorities to the communities we serve. We invite you to review this plan as not merely a program of work but as our investment blueprint. You will also find a three-year roadmap for OED which directly supports Mayor Hancock’s priorities through 2018.

The prize is less about a fiscal return than it is about creating a figurative platform. We reinvest program income every year, but the true goal of OED’s civic investment portfolio is a stronger, wider, more easily accessible platform to opportunity for all who live here.

Our legacy ledger’s bottom line is never going to be cash, but in fact something far more valuable. It is a vibrant and diverse economy with optimism to spare. We look forward to realizing the rewards with you in the months to come.

Paul Washington
Executive Director
Denver Office of Economic Development
Mission

Our economic strategy must be boldly ambitious, with innovative, forward-thinking policies that are intent upon delivering a world-class city where everyone matters.

Vision

The Denver Office of Economic Development (OED) will be a driving force that advances economic prosperity for the City of Denver, its businesses, neighborhoods and residents through purposeful and intentional economic development that: (1) broadens the tax base; (2) stimulates balanced economic growth through business assistance, neighborhood revitalization and the development of a skilled workforce; and (3) focuses on innovation, sustainability & education.
About JumpStart

As an annual roadmap for the city’s strategic economic development, JumpStart strives to both describe a broad vision for multi-year catalytic investments as well as provide detail about implementation over the next 12 months.

On the following fold-out page, you will find an overall three-year perspective that will guide OED efforts through 2018. The subsequent pages provide a more tactical guide through our immediate plans for business development, small business advocacy, housing, neighborhoods, and workforce development in the year ahead.

In the annual pages, each primary program heading is indicated by an icon as shown below. Because many tasks have a direct bearing on other aspects of OED’s program of work, initiatives that involve several disciplines and/or are designed to effect outcomes under multiple headings are noted with small icons throughout.

Section 3
Through both public and private investment, the coming revitalization of the National Western Center will globally brand Denver as the hub of 21st century agribusiness research and education. It is this same, timeless theme of planting and cultivation that also defines our community-wide philosophy of recruiting, rewarding and retaining all companies here. Every turn of the season brings forth fresh opportunity to grow our employer base, enrich opportunities for job growth, invite new companies into the mix, and ensure a robust future for the businesses already strongly rooted to this place.

Just as Denver has exceeded even its own predictions for growth in recent years, so must our efforts toward balancing old strategies with new approaches while investing in critical infrastructure that will sustain this rich environment for business. The technology industry continues to thrive in Denver, attracting eager young talent as it creates exciting, lucrative jobs that literally didn’t exist a decade or two ago.

Economic development is a steady, constant discipline of applied fundamentals—listening to every employer, grooming our talent pool for tomorrow, making and using connections throughout the commercial spectrum, and always scanning the landscape for opportunities.

Small Business Advocacy

“If you’re starting up, start here!” is the rallying cry of The Commons on Champa, the exciting public-private collaborative space for entrepreneurs that opened last year with the Downtown Denver Partnership, Colorado Technology Association and OED as founding partners. But, the same slogan could well serve as our community-wide philosophy around a range of small business-boosting initiatives.

Growing jobs organically is the perfect strategy to complement corporate recruitment and retention, since together they ensure a rich tapestry of opportunities for a growing population. Our unwavering goal is that everyone can engage with this economy to their fullest potential, from sole proprietor to a small crew or the major division of a global entity, from service provider or senior executive.

A vibrant startup climate is self-perpetuating, continually re-inventing itself with tireless energy, since growing firms and successful entrepreneurs naturally mentor new smaller firms. Our resources launching Colorado’s newest business association for leisure outdoor manufacturers is a prime example of seeding this fertile climate, as is our focus on quantifying and celebrating our appeal for venture capital.

We guide small, disadvantaged businesses to a wider world of contracting opportunities; a portion of the work on public construction projects must go to small, minority- and women-owned companies. We’re also opening new doors internationally with market research on behalf of firms ready to go global.

Denver’s legendary quality of life is not an accidental fact of nature. It must be continuously created and sustained for all who live here. Healthy neighborhoods and a robust range of safe, affordable housing options are two elements that establish a solid foundation for the promise of economic mobility. Add in our commitment to build tomorrow’s workforce and our programs to foster growing employers, and the ultimate sum of OED’s mission touches upon elements of what makes life here desirable: economic opportunity, safe and vibrant neighborhoods, and a place to call home.

Denver’s housing affordability gap can eclipse our economic progress, and therefore the OED is committed to the preservation, rehabilitation and creation of affordable housing. There is no one-size-fits-all, but a combination of solutions to protect existing affordable stock while we encourage the incorporation of affordable units into every development plan.

In an ironic juxtaposition of prosperity and economic inequality, Denver’s rents and housing values have risen so dramatically that some companies find it difficult to recruit talent who can afford to live here. Our goal is that safe, livable housing units exist not just for those in poverty, people with special needs, and the low-income elderly, but for every early-career professional and middle-income worker whose essential efforts fuel this economy every day.
FINANCE

Partnerships
Identify opportunities to collaborate with internal agencies on development and implementation of city plans and initiatives, including Blueprint Denver, Denver’s Road Home and NDCC; and improve the alignment and coordination of existing related OED investments

STRATEGIC INITIATIVES

In parallel to investments in housing, OED makes grants and loans for a range of neighborhood projects throughout a defined target list of underserved and distressed areas. Neighborhood projects are important components to a much larger enrichment strategy.

The latter perspective has led to an integrated approach to focus in neighborhoods like Sun Valley, Westwood and Globeville-Elyria/Swansea, where numerous concurrent projects spanning the categories of capital improvements and seed funding combine into a true and more lasting change. The desire for public investment throughout Denver is rarely in question, but the compelling proposals we respond to are those that leverage grassroots assets to create systems that are truly sustainable over time.

Mindful that cross-sector partnerships are essential, we work to identify, analyze and help redevelop brownfield sites up and down the South Platte River; our role is to remove barriers to private investment. We’re also tackling multi-dimensional issues like food insecurity and healthy food access, again with an ambitious approach to ignite community engagement around active participation in solutions rather than merely funding what we can directly.

Record-low unemployment has brought critical focus to the workforce skill gaps that could threaten our economic vitality. Businesses start here, move here, and expand here due to our educated population, young professionals, and enviable lifestyle — but if employers can’t find the talent they need, the story could shift dramatically.

Students, displaced workers, mid-career transitions, veterans: today’s jobseekers need exposure to tomorrow’s sustainable careers and guidance to stackable credentials. For some, 1:1 coaching and custom training plans are the answer; for others, it may be digital literacy to compete for jobs paying a livable wage. We offer encouragement that economic mobility can be so much more than just that next paycheck, but with education and attainable goals, a genuine way forward.

We help minimize employers’ risk associated with hiring Denver’s most vulnerable populations. Our customized services to ensure successful hiring include recruitment and screening, assessing basic skills, and wage subsidies.

Our mid-year transition to a new service delivery model will be a massive undertaking involving engaging multiple contractors, blending technology platforms, defining performance standards, and establishing a new framework of internal management staff, all while maintaining a seamless level of customer service to the community.
