DENVER MAYOR’S BICYCLE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

5:30-7:00; April 4th, 2018
Room 4.I.5, Wellington Webb Building, 201 West Colfax, Denver, CO 80202

AGENDA

Denver Public Works Capital Projects: Dan Raine

- Provided draft list of 2018 bikeway projects
  - 19.74 miles of trail - 19 different areas - outlined the status of these projects
  - Broadway Blvd opening in June
  - Discussed 11 intersections that will have bikeway improvements or traffic circles.

Broadway Bike Lane Tour Discussion: Brian Carroll and Dan Raine

- Infrastructure visited new site.
- Potential metal railing will be installed to separate motorists from bikers.
- Funding - Will the money used for this project come out of budgets for biking, although it will include more general updates, such as street lights?

Union Station Discussion: Lisa Nguyen

- Original plan a few years ago was for showers and lockers to be placed in facilities next to the station (and at Civic Center and Skyline Park)
  - Revisiting this plan - most of the area is now built out
- New budget for secure bike parking
- Next steps: Need to make a survey to understand biker preferences. Considering a small fee for securing bikes.

March minutes approval

- Approved

● Ed committee will step back from My Denver Bikes 2018 planning and focus more on the longevity of the project.
● General meetings will be held on the second Tuesday of the month at The District (17th and Lafayette). Next meeting is April 10th.
● Noreen will be leaving the role in August. Will need to discuss chair transition.

Public Comment/Announcements

● 15th street
  ○ Trucks get into bike lanes.
  ○ Individuals were informed of “Things in Bike Lanes” website, where they can upload photos of misuse in bike lanes. City can track where loadings are an issue.

● Bike to Work Day
  ○ Where should it start? Maybe from the west and in an underserved neighborhood even if they are not centrally located.
  ○ Need to discuss ride with the mayor and ensure it is in his schedule ASAP. Last year, he did not join because his office said it was never in his schedule.
