Crimes Against Persons (Part I Crimes)

Homicide

Homicide includes the offenses of Murder and Nonnegligent Manslaughter and is the willful killing of one human being by another. As a general rule, any death due to injuries received in a fight, argument, quarrel, assault, or commission of a crime is counted as a Homicide. The definition of Homicide excludes the following situations: deaths caused by negligence, suicide, or accident; justifiable homicides; and attempts to murder or assaults to murder, which are counted as Aggravated Assaults.

It is important to note that Homicides are counted based on the specific circumstances of the incidents, not on the criminal charges filed as a result of those incidents. For instance, situations where a victim dies of a heart attack as the result of a robbery or witnessing a crime do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the Homicide classification.

Sex Assault

Sex Assault includes only Forcible Rape, which is the carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Assaults with attempt to commit rape, and other attempts to commit rape by force or threat of force, are also included; however, statutory rape (without force) and other sex offenses are excluded. Sexual attacks on males are counted as Aggravated Assaults or other sex offenses, depending on the circumstances and the extent of any injuries.

Robbery

Robbery is the taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim in fear.

Aggravated Assault

Aggravated Assault is the unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe or aggravated bodily injury. Aggravated Assault is usually accompanied by the use of a weapon or by other means likely to produce death or great bodily harm. An attempted Aggravated Assault that involves the display of—or threat to use—a gun, knife, or other weapon is included in this crime category, because serious personal injury would likely result if the assault were completed.

Excluded from Larceny are Auto Theft and Theft from Motor Vehicle Theft from Motor Vehicle, which are classified in separate offense categories; and crimes that involve Embezzlement, confidence games, Forgery, and worthless checks.

UCR divides offenses into two groups, Part I and Part II.

Part I Crimes

Part I crimes are serious crimes that occur with regularity in all areas of the United States, and are likely to be reported to the police. As such, they provide useful information for analyzing the rates of different types of crime in different communities. Part I crimes are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Crimes Against Person</th>
<th>Crimes Against Property</th>

<td>Homicide</td>

Part II Crimes

The UCR Program collects and reports only arrest data regarding Part II crimes, but these crimes have a significant impact on communities. The City and County of Denver includes data about Part I and Part II crimes in its crime reports. Because there are many categories of Part II crimes, the City and County of Denver has categorized these offenses into logical groups and reported related crime data at the category level. Categories of Part II crimes are as follows:

- Other Crimes against Persons
- Public Disorder Crimes
- Drug and Alcohol Offenses
- White Collar Crimes
- All Other Crimes
