

Tree Walk Species List

Plains Cottonwood, Populus sargentii

Over the years, City Park has grown into a living museum of trees where many different species can be seen and appreciated by the public. But of all the park's trees, the Cottonwoods are the elders of City Park. Planted in the park since the 1890s, their massive trunks and magnificent crowns are impressive examples of one of Colorado's most recognizable native trees.
