City Park contains over 3000 trees representing hundreds of different tree species. The tree walk offers a self-guided exploration of the arboretum collections. The full length of the 3.1 mile trail introduces visitors to selected tree specimens labeled with common and scientific names to aid in learning and identifying trees adapted to the Rocky Mountain Region. Several botanical collections, state champion listed trees, gardens and other sites of horticultural interest are easily accessible from the trail route.