

Office of Human Resources
IT Technician I - LI1670
THIS IS A PUBLIC DOCUMENT

General Statement of Duties

Performs entry-level Information Technology (IT) technical work under close supervision in one or more of the following areas: desktop support, help desk support, and/or mainframe computer operations.

Distinguishing Characteristics

This entry-level class is designed to train the incumbent to perform IT technical work on projects of limited scope and complexity. This class is distinguished from the IT Technician II because the primary duties of this position involve standard level IT technical work. The IT Technician II may perform technical support on non-routine problems with minimal instruction or supervision or handle routine hardware or software upgrades and installations.

In addition, this class is distinguished from the IT Technician III because the primary duties of this position involve full performance level IT technical work. For instance, the IT Technician III is responsible for training, assigning and reviewing the work of lower level IT Technicians. The IT Technician III also performs technical support on complex problems that have not been previously handled by other IT technicians or handles large hardware or software upgrades and installations that may impact an agency or the entire city.

The IT Technician I class is distinguished from the IT Communications Technician II because the primary duties of this position involve full performance IT technical work focused on planning, configuring, and supporting communications infrastructures. This class is also distinguished by the following characteristics.

Essential Duties

Under instruction, installs and repairs desktop hardware and software; installs/uninstalls cabling for voice, video and data networks.

Assists a higher classified employee in performing technical support in a formal or informal help desk setting to users with common hardware and software problems, which includes: logging, troubleshooting, resolving, or referring problems to the appropriate Information Technology resource.

Maintains computerized inventory of voice and data equipment and specialized services for users.

By position, operates computers, peripherals and auxiliary equipment in a production setting using a mainframe computer, which involves: setting up computer for operation, assigning computer codes to production materials, and observing central console for error messages and codes.

Performs other duties as assigned.

Any one position may not include all of the duties listed. However, the allocation of positions will be determined by the amount of time spent in performing the essential duties listed above.
