St. Patrick’s Park

Playground and Walk Improvements

Brief project description

St. Patrick’s Park is a neighborhood park located in the Highland neighborhood. Originally the parking lot for St. Patrick’s Church, the park was designed and built entirely by the community and later dedicated to Denver Parks and Recreation in 1986.

The scope of this project is to replace the existing playground and walks to improve park usage and safety. A community engagement event and survey will be presented to gather input on playground design and existing amenities from residents and stakeholders.
